AARON FINK

Aaron Fink has been Superintendent of Newton Schools since 1969. A graduate of Rutgers and Harvard Universities, Mr. Fink worked as a high school principal in Stoughton, Massachusetts, Schenectady and Scarsdale, New York prior to coming to Newton. For many years he taught summers and part-time in the graduate schools of education at the University of New Hampshire, Northeastern and Harvard.

How to extend education in an era of fiscal austerity is a particularly challenging problem to Mr. Fink. He feels strongly that expanding education at both ends of the spectrum — for young children and for adults — opens up new opportunities for public education. Educating older and younger people together, such as in the program of adults attending regular courses at Newton North during the regular school day, is of great interest to him.

Mr. Fink is still nostalgic about being a school principal, a time in his career when he could work more closely with students and teachers in areas of their concern.

As superintendent, Mr. Fink observes that in Newton he has worked with a staff superior to any he has encountered elsewhere.

RICHARD MECHEM

Richard Mechem has been the principal of Newton North High School since 1960. Born in Evanston, Illinois, he attended Illinois public schools, St. Paul's School in New Hampshire, and Harvard College from which he graduated with honors. He also attended the Harvard Graduate School of Education where he received a Master's Degree.

Mr. Mechem worked as a teacher, housemaster, and a coach of St. Paul's School, and held the position of Director of Studies there for two years. He then acted as principal of Walnut Hills High School in Ohio before coming to Newton.

As principal, Mr. Mechem has a vast amount of responsibilities. He supervises the curriculum, the house plan, and various student activities. Mr. Mechem also discusses the school's problems and possible solutions with students, parents, faculty, department heads and housemasters. Facilitating changes and improvements at Newton North is a large and demanding facet of Mr. Mechem's total job responsibility.

Through his training and experience, Mr. Mechem has acquired a strong personal commitment to the individual, along with knowledge, skill, and a sense of humor. Although the ultimate responsibility of the school is his, Mr. Mechem is always ready to listen to the ideas of others, and is willing to lend his support and leadership.

ATWOOD DUNHAM

Atwood P. Dunham, North's Assistant Principal, is directly in charge of the day-to-day running of the school. His responsibilities include scheduling, grade reporting, overseeing extracurricular activities, and graduation. The problems of vandalism and discipline also fall under Mr. Dunham's jurisdiction. Having attended Wesleyan and Boston Universities, Mr. Dunham has the strong background essential for a good administrator. In his sixteen years at Newton North, Mr. Dunham has concerned himself particularly with the Open Campus program and the vandalism situation which he is working continuously to correct. Mr. Dunham is always trying to improve the system, and thus, has "never experienced a dull moment!"

DAN MALIA

Dan Malia is in charge of both Newton's city-wide and Newton North's Technical-Vocational Programs. He attended Gorham State College, the University of Connecticut, Harvard and Boston Universities. Mr. Malia, a former Riley Housemaster, was chosen for his present position by Superintendent Fink when Mr. Fink began plans to incorporate the Tech-Voc. Department into the high school. Mr. Malia's job also involves him in the Work Study, Home Economics, and business Programs throughout the Newton School System.

KEN TEMPKIN

Ken Temkin is Administrative Assistant to Newton North High School, and the Newton School Department. Mr. Temkin attended both Boston University and George Washington University. He began working for the School Department in 1975, and in 1976, he took on the additional responsibility of Newton North. Mr. Temkin's services include administering supplies and equipment, budgets, purchases, and insurance, along with overseeing the bursar's office and the business facets of the Newtonite.

BARRY HOUSE

Gail Stein

BEALS HOUSE

Meredith Z. Ghattas

Barry House was named after Dr. Leo J. Barry who became the principal of Newton High School in 1953. Barry also sponsored the Newton High School PTSA and coordinated a Citizens Secondary School Study Program, two programs which strengthened the bond between the school and the community. Barry had the respect and affection of his colleagues and students.

Gail Stein is the present housemaster of Barry, the yellow house.

The light green house owes its name to John N. Beals, the principal of Newton's first high school, which opened in 1859. Although the high school had a small staff and faculty at that time, Beals met the challenge of providing college and non-college programs for the seventy-five students enrolled.

Beals Housemaster, Meredith Ghattas says that today "the house provides the student with a home base within a large school. However, it is the student's personal involvement that makes high school a meaningful experience."

ADAMS HOUSE

PALMER HOUSE

Norman A. Gaudet

Richard M. Adams

Adams House was named for Enoch Case Adams who was the principal of Newton North from 1879 to 1921. During his 25 years as principal, Adams was deeply involved with school activities and interscholastic athletics.

Norman Gaudet Adams Housemaster speaks highly of the dark green house. "The faculty and Staff of Adams House are responsible and are committed to providing outstanding education and training for each student in the house. We hope to help them become mature adults and strong individuals."

Palmer was named after Irving O. Palmer, the first principal of the Technical High School which was constructed in 1910. Palmer initiated the policy of personal guidance for each student. Five years after the Classical and Technical programs combined in 1923, he became principal of the combined school.

Palmer Housemaster Richard Adams, describes the blue house's future as "Interesting. We're relocating the House Office into the Commons Room in hopes of maximizing the students' opportunities and making the House more accessible."

RILEY HOUSE

George P. Guild

BACON HOUSE

Thomas Ryan

Cora E. Riley served from 1930 to 1948 as North's first director of guidance. Students and colleagues respected her greatly and she cared deeply for them. The purple house bears her name. Riley Housemaster Scott Guild has set goals for the house. "We hope to have a liveable commons room, a room with seating, and in a condition useable by students. We are also trying to improve the appearance of the school through activities such as painting murals in the cafeteria."

Bacon House was named after Francis L. Bacon, who became the director of secondary education in 1924. He also served as Assistant Superintendent of Schools until 1927. Mr. Bacon established the Newtonite and the Orange Book, and instituted Dickinson Stadium.

Present Bacon Housemaster Thomas Ryan wants the red house, "to allow students and staff to work productively and thus make our lives more complete."

INSTRUMENTALISTS — SOUND STAGE

CONCERT BAND
JAZZ ENSEMBLE
ORCHESTRA
WIND ENSEMBLE

This year's instrumental program had its first concert, "Harvestfest . . . One" on November 5th. Three of Newton North's four groups performed: The Wind Ensemble, comprised of 37 members, the Concert Band, with 50 students, and the Jazz Ensemble, with 30 members. These groups are under the direction of Mr. Tom Leonard.

The orchestra, along with the Concert Choir, Family Singers, and Sisters, had their first performance of the year at "Harvestfest . . . Two" on November 13th. The orchestra, directed by Mr. Eric Benjamin, has a membership of 25.

In late January, these four instrumental groups took part in an exchange with Montclair High School in Montclair, New Jersey. The four day tour included many concerts, a Broadway show, and an afternoon in New York City.

On February 11th, the Jazz Ensemble participated in a jazz festival — an evening of jazz and rock — with several area high school jazz groups.

On February 25th, the Concert Band, Wind Ensemble, and Orchestra participated in a combined concert with Newton South.

On April 29th, the Jazz Band presented its own jazz night, playing popular jazz and rock selections from the 40's to the 80's.

This year's final concert was the Pops Concert in May in which all of North's musical groups performed.

The 1980-81 season was very successful one for the instrumental program at Newton North High.

VOCALISTS — SOUND TRACK

CONCERT CHOIR FAMILY SISTERS

North's three vocal ensembles, Concert Choir, Family, and Sisters, gave an outstanding opening concert on November 14, setting the scene for an eventful year of high caliber performances. In addition to a potluck supper, a Pops Night, and a Winterfest Concert, they held their annual Renaissance Dinner which combined madrigal music, and medieval art and dance with an authentic Renaissance meal for five hundred people. Performances at the National Cathedral in Washington, DC, and the Senate Rotunda highlighted this year's music exchange program with Woodlawn High School in Baltimore. The vocalists from Woodlawn then traveled to Boston in April to share with us the honor of singing the National Anthem at Opening Night for the Red Sox.

All three groups have demonstrated outstanding musical ability and through their hard work made this year one of the best so far.

KISMET

This year's all-school musical was a smashing production of "Kismet." Set in romantic and lively Bagdad, the story is one of love and adventure. In two days a beggar-poet, played by senior Jeff Sampson, goes from rags to riches, saves his own neck from the evil Wazir, senior Tim Martin, marries the Wazir's lovely wife, senior Sharon Phalon, and betrothes his daughter, senior Margaret Donabedian, to the Caliph, senior David Palais.

Performed in the Henry Lasker Auditorium in early December, Kismet was directed by Raymond Smith and senior Jenniner Rako. The show was produced by seniors Rachel Jacobsen, Lisa Beaudet, and Tamah Solomon. The choreography was created by Susan Ronson with her lead dancers seniors Lisa Goldberg, Lucia Gill, and Chrissi Reycroft. Choral director Eric Benjamin led the chorus in spectacular harmony while Tom Leonard conducted the orchestra. The score of Kismet was based on the musical writings of Bordine, adapted by Forest and Wright.

The entire cast performed a professional show. Said one audience member, "It was fantastic, as soon as the curtain opened I knew that I was in Bagdad."

Printed by Belmont Printing Co

Ethan Simon, editor-in-chief of the Newtonite, accepted an award for editorial excellence that their special edition on energy use and conservation won from the New England Scholastic Press Association in conjunction with Distrigas. The Newtonite has been greatly aided in recent years by the dedicated leadership of teacher Helen Smith, whose students have gone on to top jobs in the local publishing industries.

HOLLYWOOD REVUE

THOUGHTPRINTS

The Thoughtprints staff is a team of sophomores, juniors, and seniors who share an enthusiasm for art and literature. The group produces two publications a year containing poems, stories, essays, drawings, prints, photographs, and photographs of sculptures and paintings submitted by Newton North students. Over the years, Thoughtprints has appeared in many forms — a calendar, a datebook, a magazine, and so on. Members belong to either the art or the literary staff (or both) and meet weekly to discuss submissions and select them for publication. After the submissions have been reviewed, the staff launches into the production. Students typeset, layout, and paste-up the publication in the production department of Newton North. Posters along Main Street proclaim deadlines for submissions and advertise the sale of each issue. There are five administrative positions on the Thoughtprints staff: the Editor-in-Chief, the Literary Editor, the Art Editor, The Production Manager, and the Publicity Manager. All five work together to make each issue of Thoughtprints a fun and successful project.

STUDIO MANAGERS

SFA

Comprised of students, teachers, housemasters, and other administrators, the Student Faculty Administration Board serves as a policy-making council and a forum for opinions. Among this year's goals were to increase student input and to foster a greater interest in their environment. Representatives were seniors Ellen Lenson, Margie Altman, Debbie Robbins, Mira Schwartz, and Debbie Miller and sophomores Michael Kubzansky and.

PRESS AGENTS SCHOOL COMMITTEE REPRESENTATIVES

Wendy Finn

Beth Tafe

Valerie Roberts

Each year three students from Newton North are elected to serve as School Committee Representatives. The members are expected to meet with the School Committee at least once every eight weeks to discuss school problems and educational issues. It is hoped that through these meetings, the School Committee can attain a greater awareness of problems within the school community. This year's representatives were seniors Beth Tafe, Valerie Roberts and Wendy Finn.

REGIONAL ADVISORY COMMITTEE DELEGATE

Sudha Prasad

STUDENT GOVERNMENT DAY REPRESENTATIVE

Lauren Liss

NEWTON YOUTH COMMISSIONER

Linda Gheewalla

In conjunction with State Legislation, every secondary school is required to elect a delegate and an alternative to the Regional Advisory Council. This council deals with school related actions which affect students. This year's delegate was Sudha Prasad and the alternate was David Guterman.

As this year's Student Government Day Representative, Lauren Liss had "an opportunity to learn about government through first-hand experience." Student representatives attend workshops to prepare for the day when each replaces an official in the Boston State House. Role playing shows students what a government position really entails.

The Newton Youth Commission is a seven member board assisted by a twenty member advisory board. Its purpose is to implement programs designed to meet the opportunities, challenges, and problems of Newton youth. The Commission coordinates existing programs carried on by public and private agencies, develops policies for prevention of youth problems, and serves as an advocacy group. This year, Linda Gheewalla served as the only student representative to the seven member Commission.

PSYCHOLOGY CLUB

The purpose of this year's Psychology Club was to better understand human nature through direct contact with various types of people.

The club's projects included working with mentally retarded children, visiting a psychology clinic and visiting a hospital.

This year's officers were: President Donna Yaffe, Vice President Elaine Curtis, and Secretaries Brian Mosher and Kara Kelley. Rosanne Perlmuter supervised the club.

UPTOWN

Uptown is a program for sophomores which was established this year. According to English teacher Peter Capodilupo, the impersonal environment of a large school often frustrates students, as well as teachers. Uptown attempts to alleviate that anxiety by providing a small, personalized, but structured environment that enables students and teachers to develop relationships. The thirty Uptowners come from Warren, Bigelow, and Day and all attend morning classes and homeroom together. Four teachers teach in Uptown: Mr. Capodilupo, English; Mrs. Kalivas, Social Studies; Mrs. Heafitz, Math; and Mrs. Prokopy, Life Skills.

Although participating students and teachers have deemed Uptown a success, its future is uncertain due to budget cuts resulting from Proposition 2½. However, when the administration realizes the importance of a program such as Uptown, it may reconsider eliminating it.

SCIENCE FICTION CLUB

Reading and writing science fiction are two of this club's main activities. With leadership from President Stuart Berman, Vice-president Michael Levine, Treasurer David Chin, and Advisor D. Montgomery Wells, club members have improved their own writing and have developed a greater understanding of science fiction as a form of literature.

JR. MASS. STATE ASSOC. OF THE DEAF

The Junior Massachusetts State Association of the Deaf is part of the Junior National Association of the Deaf. All thirty-three deaf students enrolled in North's EdCo Secondary Program for the Hearing Impaired participate in the chapter, which provides fellowship and offers various after-school activities. Students who live many miles apart have the opportunity to learn and socialize together. Advised by Felicia Mode and Patti Wilson, the following students serve as officers: President John Monahan; Vice-President Shirley Gentile; Secretary Nancy Hayes; Treasurer Mary Walsh; and Class Representatives Kelly Fitzgerald, John Sprague and Marguerite Von Richter, Marianne Hajjar and Violet Guertin.

MODEL U.N.

This year the Model U.N. took thirty-four students to the Harvard Model U.N. at the Boston Park Plaza Hotel. The conference involved 1600 students from the U.S., Canada and Mexico. Newton North students represented Ethiopia, Tanzania, and Cameroon and won five awards. In addition, Audrey Garfield, J. B. Stern, Mike Goldstein, and Fred Wells earned honorable mentions. Fourteen members, representing Cape Verde and Upper Volta, attended the National High School Model U.N. Many thanks to the leadership of Fred Wells, Jeremy Kessler, and David Guterman.

ELECTIONS AND APPOINTMENTS COMMITTEE

The Elections and Appointments Committee was established ten years ago under the guidance of the S.F.A. Its purpose was to end the fixing of student elections, and also to appoint deserving students to certain non-elected positions. Since its creation, the Elections and Appointments Committee has publicized and supervised all Sophomore, Junior, Senior, and S.F.A. elections, along with awarding appointments to worthy students much to the benefit of the NNHS community. This year the committee was led by Election Commissioners Deborah Kantar and Norman Walker, and Faculty Advisor Barbara Killion.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

Over twenty students contributed their time and ideas to the Senior Class Committee, led by President Brian Mosher, Vice-President Beth Tafe, Treasurer Rachel Levenson, Secretary Sheila Marinucci, and Faculty Advisor Peter Capodilupo. The committee began the year with a dance open to all students. Other fundraisers included selling carnations and giant foam hands which read: "Newton North #1." The prom, on June 8 at Boston's Park Plaza Hotel, brought an eventful year to a close.

BARRY HOUSE COUNCIL

Barry Council's main objective is to raise money for charity and for the scholarship fund. Wendy Fai presided over Vice-President Cathy Dillon, Treasurer Sue Dinisco, and Secretary Alison May. This year, the council sponsored a fast to benefit OXFAM and sold candy canes on behalf of Globe Santa, in addition to several bake sales. Rocco, however, is their biggest money-maker with all profits going to the scholarship fund.

BEALS HOUSE COUNCIL

Over the past two years Beals Council has grown from a small group to the largest of the six councils. Co-presidents are Larni Levy and Beth Tafe. Other officers are: Sudha Prasad, Treasurer; Danny Katz and Debbie Robbins, Secretaries; and Joe Titlebaum, publicity chairman. Beals Council is best known for its homeroom deliveries of Halloween witch-o-grams, post-Thanksgiving Kiss-o-grams, and Valentine's Day carnations. All proceeds benefited the Beals House Scholarship Fund. An unsuccessful petition to open Beals Commons was another of the year's activities.

SPANISH CLUB

Co-Presidents Marian Abernathy and Helen Hoving acquainted club members through a series of pot luck suppers at which each member prepared a Spanish dish. Their advisor was Mrs. Interlade, who is new to NNHS. The club also had several trips to restaurants and to museums. Due to its new presidency arrangement, the Spanish club should have as much fun next year.

AFRO AMERICAN SOCIETY

According to President Nadine Poindexter, the Afro-American Club serves not only as a means to unify students, but as a support group as well, where students can voice their problems and worries. This year, Lisa Turner served as Vice President, Juanita Holmes as Treasurer, Chavonne Adams as Secretary, and Ed Shaddock as Sergeant at Arms. Black History Month was the group's main endeavor during which students presented skits, dances, and speakers in school.

SOPHOMORE CLASS OFFICERS

The Sophomore Class Committee, under the direction of President Marie Moore, Vice-President Bruce Corwin, and Treasurer John Dillon, worked hard to have an effect on student activities. The committee gathered a petition against the effects of proposition 2½ in our school system and submitted it to the Board of Alderman, and also aided S.F.A. representatives in an attempt to alter certain study hall regulations. The committee organized many fund-raising activities in order to form a strong financial base for the class of 1983.

ITALIAN CLUB

A huge Christmas party for the seventy-five members of the club and their guests started the year's major activities. In addition to raising money to aid victims of the earthquake in Italy, a Rocco concert in memory of former Italian Club member Kim Saia was held. Proceeds went into a scholarship fund. Officers this year were Angela Cerra — President, Rita Visco — Vice President, Michelle Borelli and Rita Tonti — Secretaries, Teresa Tomaino — Treasurer, and Sherry Vitti and Laurie Veno — Activities Chairpersons.

3-D MOVIE CLUB

On those evenings that Newton had nothing to offer, this group sped off to Coolidge Corner to add a new dimension to their weekend. Membership was limited to people willing to experience new activities. Alfred Hitchcock's Dial 'M' For Murder was the year's main attraction, but all members agree that Bugs Bunny ran a close second.

GEOLOGY CLUB

Over the past year, the Geology Club has done such things as: acquire a lapidary, museum trips, and numerous field trips to various sites in New England. The President is David Baron and the Treasurer is Linda Robeck.

SKI CLUB

Overjoyed with the early snowfall, President Ellen Lenson and Vice-President Adrienne Ruderman got the Ski Club onto the slopes. With the help of Treasurer Chris Manolagas and Sign-up Chairman Chris Toole, the club organized day and weekend trips to the White Mountains. The March 6-8 Sugarloaf trip was the most popular. This year for the first time, the club traveled to Colorado in February for a week of skiing at Steamboat Springs.

JUGGLING CLUB

Under the leadership of President Robbie Goodwin, Vice-president David Israel, Treasurer Bobby Bernstein, and Secretary David Baxter, this group of enthusiastic performers brought a touch of the circus to NNHS. Members met weekly to practice their skills in hopes of performing in the Spring Talent Show and in Harvard Square. According to Robbie, "We couldn't have made it through the year without the club."

IRISH STUDENT UNION

Last September marked the rebirth of the Irish Student's Union with a totally new group of both Irish and non-Irish students meeting X<sub>2</sub> blocks to enhance their knowledge of Irish history. Under the auspices of presidents Bill Morrisey, Conor Plunkett and Clare Corcoran, the Union blossomed into a 20-member community. Highlights of this year's I.S.U.-sponsored events include the great potato bake and the second annual Bagpipe and Step Dancing Concert. Special thanks to our Faculty Advisor Barbara "Killer" Killion.

JUNIOR CLASS COMMITTEE

President Martha Donaldson and the Junior Class Committee have attempted to unite the class through various activities. Thirty-five students participated, led by Martha, Vice-president Chip Burgess, Secretary Rachel Inker, and Treasurer Liz Packer. The Junior Class anticipates "a great senior year."

MARKETING AND MANAGEMENT

With the aid of teachers Leona Mallidis and Charles Day, this club established itself this year under the official name of Distributive Education Clubs of America (D.E.C.A.). Students involved in D.E.C.A. are primarily interested in careers in marketing, retail, and merchandising. In addition to opening its own store, Hide'n'Seek, within the school, the club attended workshops to learn sales techniques, and visited a nursing home to give a Christmas party. This year's officers were: Zina Britton, President; Lee Sutherland, Vice-president; Terri Bersch, Secretary; Vivi LiDonni, Treasurer; Donna Panzera, reporter; and Jill Buza, parliamentarian.

ADAMS COUNCIL

Although the Adams House Council was relatively inactive for the second half of the year due to a large number of January graduates, it did sponsor many bake sales in the first half to benefit the Adams House scholarship fund. Steve Doona was President, aided by Vice-president Leslie Cederlund, Treasurer Laura Pill, and Secretary Susan Saxon.

ON CAMPUS COMMITTEE

Activities coordinator Richard Scherr and the students on the On Campus Committee do more than show best selling movies such as The Electric Horseman, Norma Rae, Kramer vs. Kramer, Breaking away, and The Buddy Holly Story. This year, the committee organized a three week program on divorce and the family, as well as a program on nuclear war as a follow-up to the nuclear arms race. As participants in the Sports-Figure-of-the-Month Program, Dave Cowens, Jerry Ray, M. L. Carr, Ray Hamilton, and Russ Francis visited NNHS.

Mr. Scherr and students Chris Manolagas, Mike Glazerman, Susan DiNisco, Steven Bufferd, Zabia Khan, and Andrew McCloud, made great efforts to make free blocks more interesting.

GERMAN CLUB

With tri-presidents Mathew von Hendy, Marcus Powers, and Don Ulhmarn, and secretary Andrea Brandform, the German Club had an exciting year. Early in the year, they held a reception for foreign-born students. Later on, they took a ski trip to Killington and a visit to George's Island.

BLUE-STRIPED SHIRT CLUB

Members of this avant garde club wear their fashionable shirts everyday except laundry day. In addition to holding frequent discussions on the shirts' fiber content, the club visited the Osh Kosh factory in Vermont using profits from blue-and-white striped shirt sales. Next year, the club may expand to encompass brown, pink, and red striped shirts.

THE REDHEAD CLUB

The Redhead Club has been in existence since "I Love Lucy" with the Newton North Chapter starting in 1964. This year's fundraisers included selling red carnations and red licorice. All of the club members are natural redheads and roots are checked periodically. Any member found tinting her hair was immediately subjected to standing by the Bacon lockers thereby clashing with her surroundings. Otherwise, rules were lenient. Presidents Sharon Phalon and Jennifer Flackett objected strongly to the school colors of orange and black. Said the co-presidents, "How can a true redhead wear orange — we are forced to be un-patriotic to the school we love." At the final meeting of the year, the decision was made to stop red hair from being the recessive genetic trait by having all members mate only with fellow true redheads, thus creating the perfect race.

ASIAN CLUB

The Asian Club's main purposes are to provide support for oriental students at North and to help foreign students adapt to their new environment. In addition to many bake sales, the club sponsored an oriental week. Having opened itself to all students, the Asian club anticipates a better start next year.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENT UNION

Initially the International Student Union was established to provide a tutoring service for foreign students with difficulty in speaking English. However, now social activities have been planned, such as a breakfast.

Mr. David Phelan acts as faculty advisor, Nancy McManus as President, Jeff Briskin as Treasurer and other members include Branca Vianna, Kaisa Koranen, and Anna Vianna.

ORANGE BROADCASTING

During the 1980-1981 school Orange Broadcasting added a new branch to their club: WHNR (Newton High radio) was established. Meanwhile, all the club broadcasts on WNTN A.M. went live. Next year the club's opportunities look encouraging, with a possible live show on WNTN.

RUSSIAN COUNCIL

The Russian Club has one of the larger officer bodies: Co-Presidents Anya Toomre and Vicki Holms, Co-Secretaries Linda Rosenberg and Marian Abernathy, and Treasurer Phil Caldicott. Two of this year's activities were a weekend retreat to Cape Cod and a traditional Russian dinner.

BIKE CLUB

Under Presidents James Gleason and Peter Zeeb and advisor Ned Rossiter, the bike club has grown dramatically this year, gaining a substantial base for a racing team by Ben Rubin. The Bike Club took weekly rides throughout the season and discovered many prime touring areas. An all-school open bike clinic and an over-night ride were also held.

FRENCH CLUB

President Daphne Nayar organized many activities with the help of Vice-president Nancy Levinsky, Treasurer Laura Pill, and Social Coordinator Philip Mann. By selling French pastry, Toblerone chocolate bars, and candy canes, they were able to give the French exchange students a welcoming party and eat at a French restaurant. The February trip to Quebec, however, was the highlight of the year.

IMAGES

Images is a unique theatre group involving hearing as well as deaf students as performers. A knowledge of sign language is not a requirement. However, hearing students with small parts are taught to sign their role. This year's major production was The Hobbit, co-directed by Faculty Advisors Evy Galis and Steve Kimball. The cast toured other schools, such as the Framingham Learning Center and the Boston School for the Deaf. In all, Images experienced a successful third year.

SHAKESPEAREAN PLAYERS

Queen Susan Gilmore and King Fred Wells reigned over the court with the aid of English teacher Tom Schaefer. To inspire them in their theatrical endeavors, club members attended productions of Macbeth and Sheer Madness. In the fall, the club held its annual Renaissance Dinner, and in the second term, sponsored the production Androcles and the Lion. Highlighting the year was a playwriting contest, the winner of which produced his or her play along with a series of original monologues.

SPEECH TEAM

Speech Team members had an eventful year attending monthly tournaments for which they prepared readings in several categories: prose, poetry, play reading, dramatic interpretation, and extemporaneous speeches. The tournaments are learning experiences which, in combination with the support and criticism of team members and advisors Lori Borden and Kathy LaShoto, help competitors recognize their weaknesses and improve their presentations.

In addition to attending tournaments, President Alison Perlo, Vice-president Hilary Gleekman, and Secretary Sue Campagnone organized a slumber party for members to become better acquainted.

The sailing team has become the sailing club due to lack of funding from Proposition 2½. Although they sail regularly at Charles River Community River Boating Club they station their additional ships at Billows Pond. See supplement for further information.

PALMER COUNCIL

Led by Co-Presidents Mike Goldfinger and Peter Zeeb, Vice-President Janet Quigley, Treasurer Terry Bersch and Secretary Katie Haney, the Palmer Council sold candy apples in early October and carnations on Halloween. The November Charlie Chaplin film, a candy bar sale, and an unusual Christmas event were other activities.

FANTASY ISLAND CLUB

The Fantasy Island Club kicked off the year with a clam hunt. This year's project was the study of, and pleasure derived from, the works of E. Jong, J. Rossner, and Dr. Seuss. Pictured are Club Presidents Henri "Tatoo" Vitug and Mark "Rourke" Sasahara. Also shown are members Fiona Wright, Robin Muise, and Lindsay Hotvedt. "Places Everyone."

TRANSITION

Transition, Newton North's alternative program led by Ron Boucher and June Namias, guided twenty-eight students through a year of unconventional experience-based learning.

During the first semester, Transition occupies eight blocks a week. Ron, June, and students also hold a "support group" meeting twice monthly to help students cope with problems and to become better acquainted with one another. Academic studies for this semester include philosophy and political science. Field activities are another kind of learning experience; Transition participants spent a three day survival weekend on Falmouth's Washburn Island and made trips to visit Boston government officials.

At this time, Transition begins raising funds through the Transition Store, Christmas tree sales, bake sales, a flea market, and a spaghetti dinner.

In the second semester, students participate in four modules lasting one month. Social service, urban, and occupation, require that students choose an area of interest and devote thirty hours a week to it. Wilderness, the fourth module, culminates in a ten day canoe trip on the Allegash River in Maine.

For a student who is willing to "learn by doing," Transition is an ideal alternative to senior year.

VILLAGE

Mama Leone, I'm not a traitor and I'll be back next year. I won't say bye because I'll see you still this year and next. Please don't take off your shoe at me because I never do anything wrong. Have a great summer and good luck.
George

Seventy-five juniors and six teachers participate in the Village, an alternative educational and social experience. Located on the fourth floor, the Village is a personalized area in which participating students attend morning class. This intimate environment allows students to know their teachers and other students on a more personal basis and provides a place for students to "hang-out" with their friends.

Village teachers offer supportive criticisms and evaluations and encourage students to assume responsibility for their actions in school. Meetings allow students to discuss problems and activities.

TIGERS TAKE 4th DALTON TROPHY

by Colleen Underhill

North has won the Dalton award for an unprecedented fourth time.

"Being selected for the award means very much to me because we're one of the best schools around and we're not the only ones who know it," said principal Richard Mechem.

The Boston Globe presents the Ernest Dalton Memorial Trophy annually for overall excellence of High School athletic programs.

In 1979, athletic director James Ronayne and Mechem accepted this award, giving athletes and fans the happy thought that North had again retired the Dalton.

This is a large step for North because only one other school in Division I, Brockton has ever retired the trophy. But each year, the Tigers improve and so do their results.

In 1977, Newton took the award away from Brockton. In 1978, North won again, with Lexington and Brockton close behind.

And in 1979 North retained the trophy.

Since September 16, Newton has officially kept the award longer than any other Division I high school.

North has 29 sports throughout the school year.

In 1979-80, the Tigers won three state championships, one Eastern Mass. championship, had one team become an Eastern Mass. finalist and four Suburban league titles.

"Newton North has a lot of pride and excellence in everything we do," said Mechem.

"The Dalton is given to the high schools in Massachusetts for outstanding boys' and girls' sports. Therefore, an outsider's look at our school is appreciated, especially in a particular area where we are very good," he said.

"The award means a great deal to the coaches of Newton North," said boys' gymnastics and tennis coach George Jessup. "It proves they tried to do well with their team, did a good job coaching and it also gives the athletes a warm feeling to know that they have done their best."

"Although it's nice to win the award, it's not the most important thing," said Jessup. "I think it's really great that we have won the award but it's the furthest thing from my mind when I'm coaching. I'd much rather see the athletics improving for their own benefits and not even think about awards."

Under the leadership of three excellent captains and a fine group of seniors, Newton North played inspirationally all year in spite of long term injuries to key players. A lesser group of boys would have folded. An explosive offense and an aggressive defense defeated Framingham No. 21-0, Medford, 21-7, and tied an outstanding No. Quincy team, 14-14. But, by the big Brockton game Capt. Chuck Pepper, a key defender Paul Athy, top running back Peter Jennings, and guard Mark Katre were all side-lined. The Boxers were too much for the Tigers.

The players re-grouped to beat a tough Quincy team 10-7 on an exciting last second field goal by Gerry Gentile. For the next three games against Weymouth So., Cambridge, and Weymouth No., a senior backfield of Joe Deasy, Brian Quinn, and Rick Murphy took charge behind a hard-working line led by Jon Davis, Steve Gilson, and Mark Katre. The defense rapidly grew into a force to be reckoned with. Linemen Dan Blake, Bob Roman, Norm Walker and Mike Corsi were in command up front, backed by the solid leadership of Capt. Guy DiMamro and Bob Kenney. Scott Thaxton and Jeff Donovan made key plays in the latter games when called upon to fill in for the ailing captain. Other boys who were not starters but a big part of the intensity of the defense in practice and the kicking game, were Todd Jesdale, Bob Carr and Martin Comeau. Paul Westerkamp's kicking was decisive in the Weymouth North win.

Offensively Bob Billings proved to be one of the best passers in many years at Newton North, consistently hitting receivers Armando Proia, Steve Drew and Mike Schicilone. Mike also was a key blocker on sweeps for North. The Waltham game was the Game for this group of boys, but it was not meant to be. Poor field position and two great backs resulted in a 13-0 Waltham win. As all year, the Seniors showed class and pride in their preparation for the game, their playing of it, and their response to a tough defeat. This senior class provided the next two classes with a model of how athletes should conduct themselves on and off the field. They were dedicated, aggressive and proud while at the same time being mature young men.

Those who saw the soccer team play know that they were a much better team than their record indicated. Newton out-shot their opponents in all but one game. They controlled mid-field in every game but failed to capitalize on scoring opportunities.

Highlighting the season was a five-day trip to Mobile, Alabama in October. Newton competed against Bayside Academy, Alabama's State champion soccer team. Along with valuable soccer training, they gained a unique cultural experience and a taste of what "Southern Hospitality" is all about. Their visit included a trip to the Gulf Shores, a post-game pig roast and an abundance of rest and relaxation.

Under coach T. J. Williams, the team learned technique and tactics that will surely remain with them. Leading the team were co-captains Mike Iatridis and Peter Vasiliadis. Both co-captains were chosen as league All-Stars and Vasiliadis also made the Eastern Mass. state team.

Post season awards went to Tom Dallaire for "Most Improved Player," Danny Chisholm for "Coaches Award" and Vasiliadis and Iatridis shared team M.V.P. honors. Other standouts were seniors Alphonso Peters, Danny Gilroy, and Ricky Callanan and junior Cam Sears. Cam Sears and David Notter were elected captains for the 1981 season.

This year's edition of the Newton North High School Soccer team continued a great winning tradition by gaining a fifth consecutive suburban league title.

Losing only one game (15-1) in the league and with an over-all record of 17-2, senior, junior and sophomore players contributed to the offensive-defensive mix necessary for an outstanding season.

The whole season pivoted on the Brockton and Weymouth North games mid-season — having lost to Brockton and down 0-2 at the end of the first half against Weymouth North, we recovered and scored 3 times to win the game — which probably were the games that decided the winner of the league title.

The team was captained by seniors Sandy Smith, Anne Sullivan, Diane Lewis and Felicia Zani.

1980 was a fabulous year for the Boy's Cross-Country team. They knew they had something good going in September when they finished second out of a field of 25 teams in the Northeastern Invitational Meet. Later, Newton North finished ahead of the first place finisher, Gladstone-Millville, in the Mass. State Championship race.

The Suburban League was a very strong league in 1980. Newton North won the league Championship after exciting victories over powerful Brockton, Weymouth South, Cambridge Ringe and Latin, and Brookline. The team finished the season with an 8-0 record.

Then in November 8, 1980, Newton North won the Eastern Mass. Division I championship for the third year in a row. This feat had never been done before in the 43-year history of the Mass. State Championships.

The team was led by senior Co-captain Mark Sasahara (Most improved) and Co-captain Peter Leary (Most consistant). Both boys are Suburban League all-stars. Other boys who contributed toward winning the Suburban League Championship and the Eastern Mass. Division I Championship were: Brian Young, Kevin McHugh, Peter Resnick, Phil Katzman, Phil Caldicott, Tom Carleo, George Fulk, David Kagan, Cam Laing, Paul Partridge, Dan Spar, Gerard McHugh, Paul Passavant, and other dedicated team members.

A special thanks to Coach Joe Conolly, and assistant coach Mark Lech.

Yes, the year 1980 was truly the year of Newton North Cross-Country.

The season began well when the team took second place in the Northeastern Track Club Invitational losing only to a track club from New York and beating several college teams. The tigers overwhelmed all opposition until the Waltham meet, when, without Senior Co-captain Monique Nathanson and junior Emily Gaudet, they suffered their only defeat of the season. With a great amount of pride and determination the team overcame the loss of these runners and went on to place second in Division 1 and second in the state championships. The states were a particular success with Liz Natale, Senior Co-captain Cathy Sotir, Carrie Bacon, Amy Fitzgibbon, Liz Premo and Ellen Quinlan helping to beat Waltham and very narrowly missing first place.

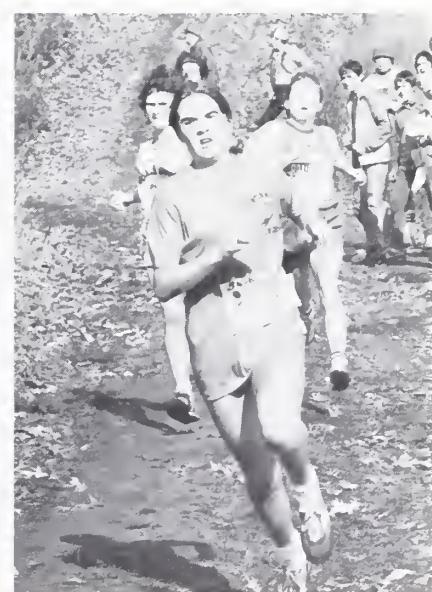

The girls are certain their coach, Peter Martin, is the best in the state. With his coaching, the team members found themselves taking minutes off their best times. Peter worked with each girl, making sure the closely knit team was always laughing and having fun.

The 1980 Girls Cross-Country team exuded talent. The front runners included: Liz Natale, who remained undefeated throughout the season, smashed the course record by over a minute, (running the three mile course in 16:29) and came 4th in the states; Co-captain Cathy Sotir, whose best race came in the Division 1 championship where she placed 15th; Amy Fitzgibbon, whose 6th place in the states Coaches Meet earned her a well deserved medal; and Carrie Bacon, whose steady improvement all year led her to a 16th place in the all state meet. Liz Premo improved tremendously and ended up running number 5 in the state meet for the Tigers. Ellen Quinlan also developed rapidly. Beth DeRosier worked hard and added an enormous amount of spirit to the team. Kathy Roy always finished strongly and 1980 marked her third solid year on the Varsity squad. Leora Hadler, Mary-lou Lane, and Susan Huse steadily improved and provided support during the state Championship meets.

The 1980 Volleyball team started their season with victories against tough Lynnfield and rival Waltham. But the team lost momentum and tried desperately to regain it. The volleyball team seemed to have reached its peak too early and tried to get back the strength needed to win again.

All but two varsity players returned to this year's squad. The skill, technique, and experience were there but the team could not put all these assets together to get a winning season.

Under the coaching of Jay Cradle, the team learned more about themselves. It was time for growing and parting. Senior Wendy Fai had an outstanding season capturing a place on the first all-star team. Other players who made up the team were seniors Christy Gallier, Ellen Lenson, Eleanor Johnson, Karen Lee, and juniors Megan Guiney, Amy Merrit, Elissa Weltz, Ginger Zukowski and Marcia Zukowski.

Merrit, another outstanding player, made a place for herself on the all-star team and will lead the 1981 squad as captain.

This year's Golf team won the Suburban League Championship with an 8-0 record. This performance qualified the team for the State Tournament in the spring.

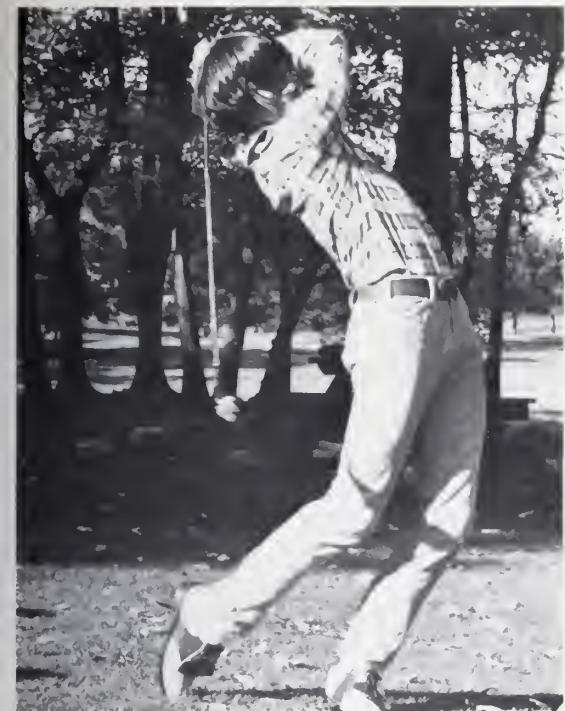

The key to the team's success was its depth. No other team in the league could field as many quality golfers. In contrast with most teams on which only one or two golfers are capable of turning outstanding performances, every member of North's starting eight distinguished himself at least once during the season by posting a superior individual effort. This starting unit included Captain John Jepsen, Erik Corwin, Bruce Corwin, Kevin Campbell, Jimmy Alden, Wayne Leblanc, Spencer Laemmle, and Paul Sheinian. Backing up the starters were sophomores Mike Burns, John Drew, and Peter May.

The highlights of the season were two one point victories over traditional league rivals Brockton and Brookline. The Brockton match was especially emotional and hard fought because the North golfers sought to avenge Brockton's close victory in the previous year's Suburban League Playoffs. Both victories were total team efforts marked by several exceptional individual performances.

This year the field hockey team had only two returning players from last season. The nucleus of the team was lost to graduation last spring. They also had a new coach Allyson Toney, who is a Newton North graduate and a former Tiger hockey player.

Most of the season was spent learning the fundamentals. The team was inexperienced but you could see the improvement every time they played. They finished the season with a 1-13 record. The only win was a 3-0 victory over Newton South. One indication of the team's steady improvement was their holding Weston to only one goal the second time the two teams met. Weston beat the Tigers 7-0 the first game of the season, then went on to become the State Champions.

Next year the team will miss senior co-captains Nancy Palmer and Avalee Jenkins who provided the leadership and experience that the young Tiger team lacked. Coach Toney is looking forward to next year when she'll have all but two players coming back.

The 1980 Girls Swim team had a very successful season despite the large turnout of sixty-two girls. The team was held together by the strong leadership of co-captains Leslee Tocci and Tracy Greene. The team's 7-2 record was a result of their talent and togetherness. Losses to Brockton and Brookline by the smallest margins in the history of girls swimming show the team's determination and spirit.

Third year swimmers include Tracey Parsons, Larni Levy, Marion Abernathy, Dorie Stanton, Karen Resnick, Sarah Abernathy, and Jennie Szekley.

Outstanding jobs were done by senior Colleen Halloran and sophomore Lisa Dunn in the Individual Medley, co-captain Leslee Tocci and sophomore Stephanie Meyer in the 100 butterfly, senior Laura Pill and junior Laura Collins in the 100 breaststroke, junior Katie King and sophomore Lisa Dunn in long distance, co-captain Tracy Greene and junior Laura Collins in the 50 and 100 freestyle, junior Eve Mazzola and sophomore Lisa Dunn in the 100 backstroke, and sophomore Mimi Golden, junior Jennifer Ryan, and senior Jennifer Annese in diving.

A special note of thanks to Coach Colleen White for an excellent coaching job.

1981 has been a building year for the Newton North swim team. After losing a large group of seniors from the successful 1980 team, Coach Ben Merritt was left with a small group of swimmers with racing experience. These included Captains: Doug Robinson, and Bob Armstrong, seniors Steven Bufferd and John MacDonald, aided by juniors: Phil Richmond, Tom Chin, and Russell Bradley. The team's experienced divers included Steve Kelly, John Sprague, and Kevin Feeney, who were instrumental in Newton's five wins. Coach Merritt has expectations that the team will be strengthened by the experience of the rising juniors and sophomores during the five and five season.

Led by captain Stephen Drew, the defending State Champion Indoor Track team had another successful season.

Finishing second in the tough Suburban League, the Tigers only loss was a close one to league-champion Brockton 44-42.

The team was strong in all the events. The shot put was well covered by Junior Kevin Troy and Bruce McDonald. Junior Bill Drew came through with important wins in the 300. Steve Drew was a consistent performer in the high jump as well as a State-ranked competitor in the hurdles with a 6.6 clocking. Senior Scott Thaxton aided Steve Drew in the high jump and the hurdles. Senior Mike Margolis sprinted while Senior Brian Young and junior Cam Laing won valuable points in the 600 and 1000. Seniors Peter Leary, Mark Sasahara, and Phil Caldicott were impressive distance runners.

The mile relay team of Steve Drew, Bill Drew, Cam Laing, Adam McKee, and alternate Rich Michelson was the best in the league.

A successful season would not have been possible without the guidance of head coach Fred Yaitanes and assistant coach Mark Lech.

Next year's prospects look good with returning lettermen Dave Kagan, George Fulk, Bill Drew, Cam Laing, and Adam McKee.

Many promising sophomores include Paul Passavant, Gerald McHugh, and John Drew.

The Girls' indoor track team began their 1981 season well, winning their first meet. Although the team was young and inexperienced, they all gave a tremendous effort. The girls were led by captains Lisa Coveno and Cathy Sotir, and they solidly defeated many of the teams in the league. (Including Brockton, Weymouth South, Brookline, and Waltham.) Coveno led the sprinters while Sotir paced the distance runners.

The girls treated every meet with determination and they constantly cheered their teammates on to victory. It was a new and challenging experience for many of the girls, but no group ever ended up with a more successful season. Even though there were losses, the team never lost the spirit of winning.

BOYS
BASKETBALL

Looking at the Tigers before the season began, who would have imagined a winning season in the tough Suburban League. They lacked the seven-footer who played for Cambridge and the six-niner on the North Quincy squad. Their seniors' experience last year had been in a lineup constantly changed by injuries. But the spirit and closeness of this year's team brought them to a bid for the State Tournament.

Sharpshooter Co-Captain Bob Billings lead the scoring attack with a 17-point average. His speed, hustle, and leadership through example brought the Tigers some important wins. Lee "T.K." Gilliam completed the captaining duo. He provided the precision passing and clutch shooting so important to the offense.

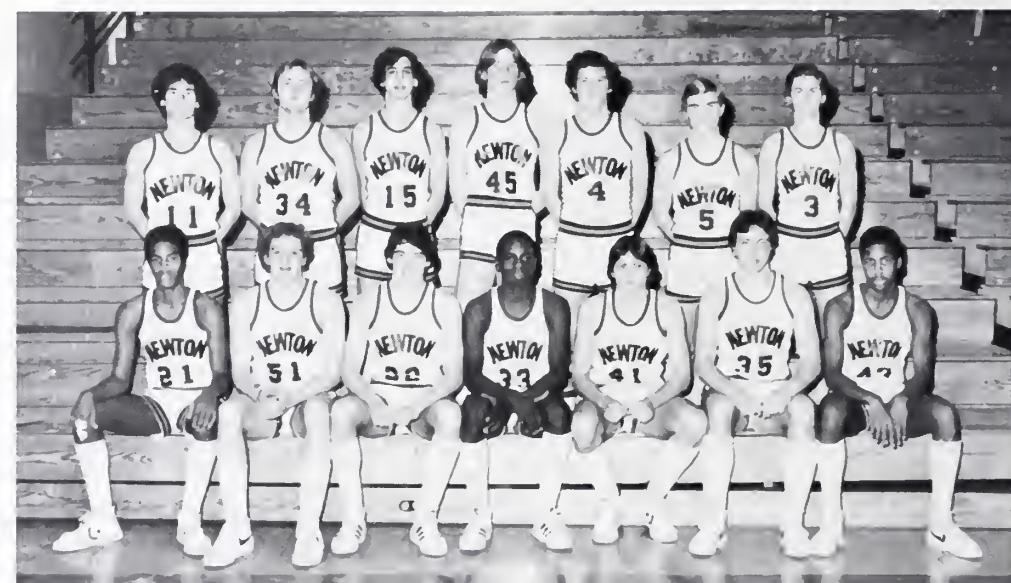

Scott Humphrey and Armando Proia handled the board duties for the squad. Humphrey was second in scoring behind Billings and lead in rebounds, while Proia provided the muscle required for the Tigers' inside game.

Completing the starting lineup for the Tiger quintet was junior Rion Foley whose playmaking for the team was a job well done.

Coming off the bench, leaper Bill "Wassi" Carter's shot-blocking was a threat to other teams and an inspiration to his teammates. Seniors Bill Rollins and Sean O'Rourke provided Coach Phillips with luxury of going to his bench with confidence.

Two deaf teammates, John Monahan and Joe Latendre added not only their basketball expertise but also a valuable learning experience for all the players.

Closing out the team, and carrying on for next year is a fine group of juniors, Paul Vaccaro, Scott Olson, Keith Alberts, and Ted Shapiro.

The girls basketball team was once again successful. With new coach Allison Toney, the team began building on a very strong base which was developed last year when the Tigers were state finalists. Although the Tigers lost four starters to graduation the team showed its depth with continued success.

The team was led by senior All-Scholastic Donna Yaffee, who was the leading scorer in the suburban league. Additional front court power was provided by seniors Sandy Smith and Barbara Davis and junior Debbie Quinn, all of whom were scoring threats. These four forwards controlled the boards throughout the season.

The offense was directed by junior Jenna Lammers who led the team in assists. Junior Lord Goldenberg was another point guard whose speed was a catalyst in the team's effective fast break. Seniors Christy Gallier and Patty Ackerly were valuable swingmen, playing whichever position was needed.

Rounding out the team were juniors Sandy Vachon, Tina McCabe, and Diane Russell and sophomore Stephanie Stoyanoff, all of whom were part of a skillful bunch.

Prior to entering the State Tournament, the Tigers went to Rhode Island to play the 23-0 Cumberland High School team. They gave the undefeated girls their first loss, 72-58.

Besides the athletic ability of the team, Coach Toney felt that the team had character and showed poise at all times. These combined factors allowed the Tigers to live up to their reputation as one of the state's top girl's basketball teams.

The 1981 season for the Boys' Gymnastics team was highlighted by a narrow victory over Brockton, the school's old arch rival. Gymnasts who were instrumental in the win included captain Paul Gilbert, juniors David Chow and John LeBlanc on the pommel horse, senior Paul Yannoni on the high bar, rings, and vault, and junior Billy Jordan on the parallel bars. The team suffered a crushing loss to Brookline during the season, but recovered for a six win and five loss season. Paul Yannoni, David Chow, John LeBlanc, and Bill Jordan qualified for the states and strong performances were expected from them, as was a strong team performance expected in the league meet.

There was excitement in the air as we first gathered for the beginning of our season. There was the new blood that was energetic and full of potential. And there was the older blood; stronger from experience and ready to go. It was not long before the two groups became one as they went after common goals. There will be many memories locked in the minds and hearts of the team members and coaches. A few might be: ice, ice everywhere . . . sore muscles . . . new tricks . . . The 1981 Wrestling team, led by captains Tom Wasson, Norm Walker, and Guy DiMambro, had a successful season. Their great team spirit resulted from big wins against Weymouth North and Framingham North, as well as the needed support of seniors Tom Blakely, Jim Callahan, and Junior Al Fortune. Some of the team's hopes were crushed by unfortunate losses to both Waltham and Quincy. However, they retain expectations of defending last year's sectionals crown, as well as finishing as one of the top ten teams in the state.

Newton North High School Tiger Hockey

Led by veteran co-captains Ricky Callanan and Bobby Kenney, the Tiger Hockey team posted impressive victories over the Brockton and arch-rival Waltham.

The "red" line, consisting of returning seniors Callanan and Kenney, along with Junior Paul Howley, has been able to put their eight years of combined experience to work, sparking the team in scoring. Hard fought games against Quincy, North Quincy, and league-leader Weymouth North highlighted the campaign, and had the puck crossed the goal line instead of hitting the post on a few occasions, the Tiger sextet may have had a chance at a state tournament berth.

With Seniors Steve Karem and Danny Chisolm returning, the veteran blue-liners anchored an otherwise inexperienced defense. Two other holes must be filled next year, as senior Jim Demeo leaves with two varsity letters and David Scafidi graduates with a consistent effort and strong, positive attitude, something future Newton teams will strive for.

The future is bright, as Newton returns eleven players, including goaltender Bob Incorvati, a two year starter.

Special thanks this year go to coaches Don Crowley, Dick Fletcher, and John Dooley, whose consistent effort and abundance of time paved the successful route to follow.

The 1981 ski season was a combination of snow and mud, mostly mud. After building up an impressive 26-2 record on snow, the team spent the remaining weeks of the season up to their knees in mud, demonstrating the great agility and the kind of determination which enabled them to sweep the league in an awesome display of power. The team was ably captained by seniors John Webster and Ellen Lenson who lent their guidance and experience to an otherwise unorganized and rather motley crew. Top point getters for the girls were Clare Corcoran, Kelly Fitzgerald and Megan Guiney, backed up by Valerie Roberts, Liz Shaw, Kathy Joyce, and Maureen Laffey. Leading scorers for the boys included Ethan Simon, John Webster, Ted Wekstein, Tom Culbertson, and Colin Selig, supported by Tom Chamberlain, Avrum Mayman, Hal Rosenber, Jon Weis, Josh Weis, Phil Russel, Doug Haller, Chris Webster, Greg White, and Peter Wekstein.

The team would like to extend special thanks to our coach John Phernandes (uh . . . that's Fernandes) for the time and effort he put into making this team the incredible success it is.

Highlights:

- Famous home movies on the slopes to be shown at next year's world cup training sessions.
- Anonymous team member who missed the finish gate, severing the telephone wires.
- The famous ice cube known as Prospect "Mountain."
- MUCCER GAMES.
- Secret weapon: "Quicksilver" liquid silver wax.
- Snowball fights on the bus resulting in the coach administering P.T. patrol (personal transportation).
- Fat Sam's catering truck for a between-run snack.

The 1981 ski season had two surprises for the undefeated Nordic Ski Team: snow and competition. Although snow was scarce, the squad trained well and remained undefeated, leading the combined Alpine and Nordic teams to the league title. Coached by John Fernandes and led by Boys' captain Ethan Simon and Girls' co-captains Kathy Roy and Robin Weingarten, the devoted skiers consistently outdistanced their competitors by wide margins. The team's success was due to relatively early and complete training, and mastery of technique. Team participants included (alphabetically): Sarah Abernathy, Joe Adelstein, Evan Bloom, Erik Corwin, Katherine Dillon, Erik Johnson, Deborah Kantar, Jonathan Kantar, Julie Miller, and Peter Zeeb.

Baby, look at me and tell me what you see
You ain't seen the best of me
yet
Give me time; I'll make you forget the rest
I got more in me, and you can set it free
I can catch the moon in my hand
Don't you know who I am?

Baby, hold me tight, 'cause you can make it right
You can shoot me straight to the top
Give me love and take all I got to give
Baby, I'll be tough
Too much is not enough
I can ride your heart till it breaks
Babe, I got what it takes.

Remember my name, FAME
I'm gonna live forever
I'm gonna learn how to fly
I feel it coming together
People will see me and cry
I'm gonna make it to heaven
Light up the sky like a flame
Remember my name.

I remember driving along Lowell Avenue with my father when Newton North's new building was under construction. "You'll be going to school here someday," he said indicating the mass of brick and concrete. I sighed, unable to picture myself attending high school. At the time, I was only in fourth grade, and even the sixth-graders seemed powerful and important. They had their classrooms on the top floor, sat at big desks, and kept their numerous school supplies in lockers that towered above me. Sporting fluorescent orange bands, the sixth grade safety patrols strolled the cross-walks, arms spread as barriers, shouting commands I dared not disobey. I yearned for the day that I would have their authority.

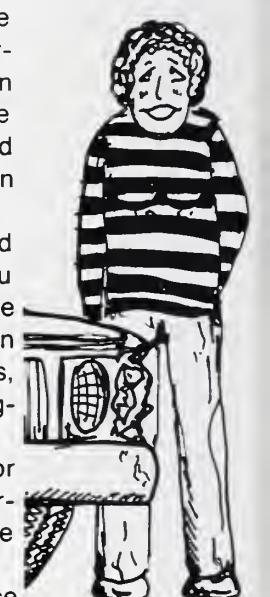

Now when we visit our elementary schools, the patrols seem meek, the lockers small, and the chairs low. Time has gradually changed our perspectives and our goals. It seems like only yesterday that we were sophomores, nervously walking the long corridors peering at room numbers in search of our classes. Today we stroll down Main Street with confidence, and laugh at those sophomores who can't find L218 or 1132. The parties, the pep rallies, and the people who helped us survive final exams, the Monday Morning Blues, the cafeteria food and the closing of Main Street.

Remember that time someone hit your car? Or when you and your one and only broke up and you spent the day moping in the bathroom? What about the athletic banquet at which you received your varsity letter? The day you put the finishing touches on that big project in the shop? The terms you made honor roll? Opening night of the play? There were drag races on Lowell Ave., stink bombs, and fire alarms. We passed time on the library steps, in the commons, on the benches, in the Tranny room, and at the Elm Street entrance. We wore overalls and baggies, leathers and school jackets, Calvin Klein, Sasson, Le Sport, and Levis.

Information sheets, senior blurbs, and SAT applications constantly remind us of our senior status. Last year we watched the seniors exchange photographs and sign one another's yearbooks; this year it is our turn. Clad in black robes, we will sit in the concrete bleachers of the stadium, tears streaking some faces, smiles adorning others.

Three years separate the timid sophomore from the confident senior. Next year, we will once again be like sophomores as we struggle to regain a sense of security in a new environment, but since we can now Identify, Predict, Decide, and Execute, we can make this next transition. We may leave behind Newtonites, our faithful Tiger, and black and orange spirit, but we will take with us the memories of all those special moments. Like cross-country runners, we have been striving for a finish line, but there will always be some finish line beyond that; so on the way we might as well feel every step and enjoy all the scenery.

Congratulations and Good Luck to the class of '81!

SCRIPTS

Every morning at 11:00, the cast breaks for fifteen minutes, a period of time better known as homeroom. Cast members may use this time to study scripts, chat with directors and co-stars, and catch up on studio gossip. However, NNHS, Inc. requires that actors remain in their assigned lounges for the entire fifteen minutes. Homeroom is important because not only does it provide casual relaxation within a harried day, but also unites actors and actresses of differing socio-economic and intellectual groups.

"Who has the notices?"

"This is Josh Waldorf with the Newtonite news."

"I can't believe she gave me a cut slip."

"No, I haven't seen Sue . . . yeah, David's here today."

"The library is a pain in the neck. I returned that book months ago."

"Will everyone shut up? I have to study for a test I'm taking next block."

"How was your weekend? I went to the wildest party . . ."

"Did I get any mail today?"

"We've had to fill out these stupid registration cards a hundred times."

"Can we leave yet?"

"Do you have first or second lunch?"

"Hey, what's happening this weekend?"

"I do NOT owe $52.00 for my soccer uniform!"

"You're kidding! I thought they were still going out."

"Have a nice weekend!"

"If you're late one more time . . ."

"Linda to house office . . . Now!"

"Are you selling M&M's?"

"Hey . . . Mr. Stephens, will you buy a mug?"

"Mr. Guild, do you have the key?"

CABARET

UNDERSTUDIES

We've been together since way back when
Sometimes I never want to see you again
But I want you to know
After all these years
You're still the one
I want whisperin' in my ear

You're still the one
No matter what you said
Still the one that turns my head
We're still having fun
And you're still the one.

Looked at your face everyday
But, I never saw you till I went away
You're still the one that makes me laugh
Still the one that's my better half
Still the one that makes me strong
Still the one that I take along
We're still having fun
And you're still the one.

Yes, you are changing
Our love is going gold
Even it grows old, it grows new
You're still the one who can scratch my itch
Still the one and I wouldn't switch
Still the one that makes me shout
Still the one I dream about
We're still having fun
And you're still the one.

THE COMMISSARY

"Okay, it's 11:15. Let's break for lunch." The famished members of the cast throng to join the mob eagerly waiting to purchase the delicious meals prepared by the gourmet cooking staff of NNC. Neither pushing nor shoving will deter this hungry bunch.

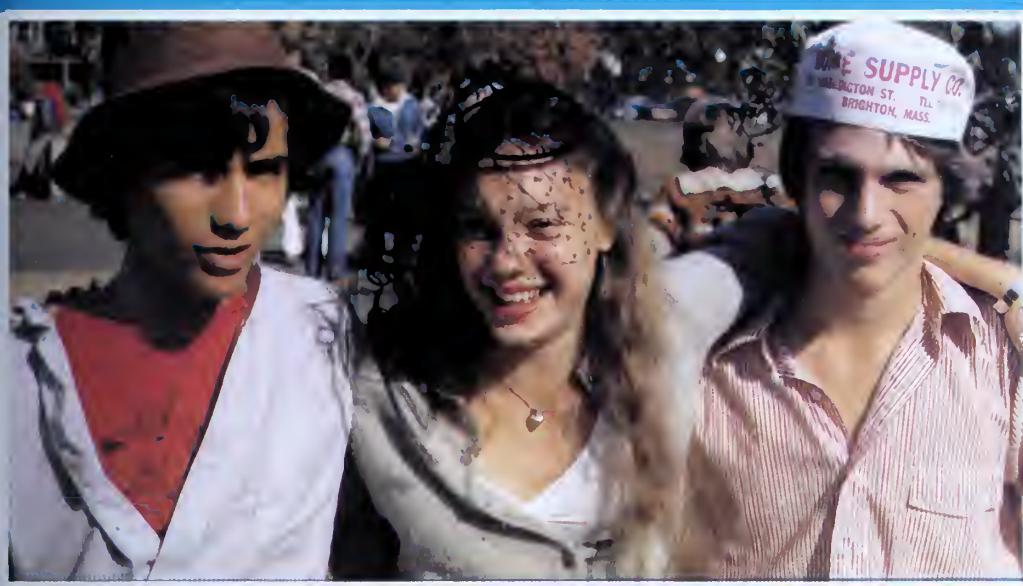

After a hard morning of work, the cast appreciates this opportunity to relax and enjoy a good meal.

THE SETS

"To live without love, laughter, and the respect of others' is not to live at all; and the ability to give these to others is the most precious gift of all."

Scripts

Typical lines from a daily shooting in Newton.

Set: The House Office

I didn't skip — I felt sick and went to the nurse!
It's his fault; he hit me first.
I was there. The teacher just didn't see me.
I overslept.
The bus never came.
All the clocks are wrong in this school, so how do you expect me to be on time?
My guidance counselor was helping me solve an identity crisis.
Of course I have more than twenty-two blocks filled.

Set: The Classroom

I'm doing this for your own good.
This is an easy quiz, isn't it?
Stop writing on the desks.
Have you been paying attention?
Class began four minutes ago. At least you could come in quietly.
No, you can't go to lunch yet. There's one minute left.
You're on the borderline . . . but I think I'll give you the benefit next time.
Do you have a pass?
You should be able to read this novel in one evening.
And now, for a little quiz . . .

Set: At Home

Did you do all your homework?

No, you can't have the car.

Set: The Library

Only four to a table.	I need the phone.
Be quiet or leave.	I suppose the TV helps you do your math.
Would you prefer to work in a conference room?	How was your day?
That book is out.	I know you're under pressure now.
That will be $1; it's not amnesty week you know.	Suppertime!!
	When I was in high school . . .

Set: The Cafeteria

Are you gonna eat your peaches?

Got a dime?

No food outside of the caf!

Chocolate, coffee, skim, or plain?

No frogurt today.

Can I have your tray?

Clean up that table.

Are you sure that's a hamburger?

Set: Practice

GO NEWTON . . . BEAT BROCKTON!!

Let's go!

Ten laps around.

Loosen up.

Pride.

One and two and three and . . .

Are you asleep out there?

Stick it!

You're not tired; you just think you are.

Concentrate!

Push off those legs . . . where are your muscles?

Five more . . . c'mon, push yourself.

Hustle .. the bus leaves in two minutes.

Oh God!!

Set: Main Street

Please, muush!

What block is next?

I can't believe she gave me a 'B.'

You're kidding.

Any parties this weekend?

It's the third locker in the fourth row.

Do you think we'll have school tomorrow?

Do you have E block free?

Got your car today?

I can't believe how much work I have tonight.

I just got a cut slip . . .

Well, he told me that she said . . .

Room 3225? It's on the second floor of the third house.
